

ROOSEVELT AT OYSTER BAYWeary From Western Journey
But Well Satisfied.

COLONEL ENJOYED HIMSELF

Every Minute of His Western Trip Interested the Colonel—Orders That Nobody Be Allowed to Disturb His Privacy at Sagamore Hill—Correspondence Likely to Occupy His Time From Now On.Oyster Bay, N. Y., Sept. 12.—After an absence of three weeks Colonel Roosevelt is home again, weary from his Western trip, but well satisfied with the result. He enjoyed every minute of it, he said.The colonel reached New York at 10 o'clock in the morning from Pittsburg. His automobile was waiting for him at the ferry; he hopped into it with agility, whirled across the city to a ferry for Long Island and a little after noon was in Oyster Bay. His first orders were that no one should be permitted to invade the privacy of Sagamore Hill and for the day he relapsed into the comforts and seclusion of his family life.It is likely that his correspondence will occupy his entire day and that whatever consultations are to come with those who have in hand the fight to force his election as temporary chairman of the coming Republican state convention will be postponed until Tuesday, when he will visit his office again.Before he started on the trip Colonel Roosevelt had said little on public matters, but to the people of the Middle West he declared himself on almost all of the questions now before the nation. His utterances were accepted as his political creed and were received with satisfaction by many progressives, although Colonel Roosevelt himself, in a speech at Kansas City, classed himself as a progressive.
Wherever he went he talked the "square deal" and honest politics.

Nation Facing a Crisis.

At Osawatimie he declared that the nation was facing a crisis as grave as that which preceded the Civil war and there he outlined at the greatest length his theories of what ought to be done about it. These led to his plea for a "new nationalism," to deal more effectively with such questions as control of corporations and the conservation of natural resources.In Kansas City he urged a federal act to regulate the compensation of workmen. In Iowa, he turned for the first time to the tariff. At Sioux City he first mentioned the Taft administration. At Fargo he declared himself in hearty sympathy with organized labor and at the same time warned the unions that they must oppose lawless violence. The following day in St. Paul he urged, even more emphatically than before, the control of the country's natural resources by the federal government instead of by the individual states.The most sensational incident of the entire trip occurred at Freeport, Ill., when he refused to attend a dinner of the Hamilton club in Chicago if United States Senator Lorimer, a member of the club, were present.Early in October Colonel Roosevelt will launch again on a shorter tour through the South, during which he will make a campaign speech for Senator Beveridge in Indiana. He has also promised to speak for Senator Lodge in Massachusetts.

MADAME CAVALERI COMING

Famous Singer Says Flat Has Been Taken in New York.Paris, Sept. 12.—Mrs. Cavaleri-Chanler was entertained by Mrs. Truax.
This is the first social event the singer has attended since she underwent her recent operation for appendicitis.
Mme. Cavaleri-Chanler talked freely of her going to New York. She said a flat had been taken for her occupancy.
Mme. Cavaleri confirmed a statement in an evening paper declaring that the separation "is a cruel calumny."In the evening paper interview there is a flat denial that she and her husband have separated. She is quoted as saying that her husband went to America on Aug. 21, for the purpose of executing a $60,000 painting commission. She was unable to accompany him because she had just undergone an operation for appendicitis, and also because she is a bad sea traveler. The prima donna said when her husband arrived in New York he sent her an affectionate cable dispatch.
Mme. Cavaleri returned to Paris Wednesday from Pourg, where she went from the hospital. She is now fully cured, although she is compelled to be careful. It is for this reason it is understood she did not accompany her husband to the United States.

Two Burned to Death.

Portland, Ore., Sept. 12.—In a fire that destroyed the home of Joseph C.
Wendell, Myrtle Wendell, two years old, was burned to death and Laura Ellis, a domestic, eighteen years old, was so badly burned that she died a few minutes after reaching the hospital. The fire is believed to have resulted from the explosion of a gasoline stove.

JAMES J. HILL.

Does Not See Why Business Men Should Fear Paralysis.JAMES J. HILL TALKS ABOUT COMMON SENSESays Business Men Are in Need of It.St. Paul, Sept. 12.—James J. Hill cannot see why the business men of the country should at present fear to engage in new enterprises, nor can he see any reason whatever for the semi-paralysis which is gradually creeping over the United States."It's only a senseless lack of confidence," said Mr. Hill, in an interview.
"And why this lack of confidence? Someone, somewhere, has grown timid over something or other, and has cried 'hooray' at his neighbor. His neighbor probably jumped and the next fellow took fright without knowing why he was frightened. And so on.""It's just like a flock of sheep. If one starts to run, every sheep in that flock will follow, even if they die for it.""During the big National Conservation congress we have talked about conserving water and conserving land; conserving coal and conserving iron.
It's too bad somebody didn't say a word about conserving common sense."
"That's what this country needs right now—to conserve common sense.
There's an article in the September North American Review dealing with the conservation of common sense that well illustrates the business condition of this country right now and gives,
as the panacea for the business paralysis, the suggestion that our business men use a little common sense—just ordinary, sound, common sense.
I wish business men everywhere would take that advice.""I can see no reason for the fears which seem to possess our business men. I have preached a return to the farm policy for years, and expect to continue to do so; but that's no reason for fear on the part of business."

FRAUD ALLEGED IN FIGHT

Constituents Declare That Removal Petition Is Illegal.Devils Lake, N. D., Sept. 12.—The effort being made in Rollette county to change the county seat from Rolla to Rollette has taken a new turn, and litigation of special interest is under way.The county commissioners have called a special election to vote on the proposed change, but the Rolla constituents have responded by a remonstrance declaring fraud to exist in the petitions which the county commissioners held were sufficient to authorize them to call the election.The title of the action which will come before Judge Templeton at Devils Lake is A. G. Graham vs. G. J.
Thompson. Mr. Thompson being the chairman of the board of county commissioners. The total number of signers to the petition was 1,105, and the petitioner says he was able to prove that names sufficient to reduce the number to 1,032 were not legal signers. The total vote at the previous election was 1,619 and the number 1,032 would not be sufficient to give the necessary two-thirds to authorize calling a special election.Originally the county seat was Dun-seith. Then came the first fight, when St. John secured the plum. In 1890 Rolla went after the prize and in an election marked by bitterness, succeeded in landing it. Rollette made its first fight to get the county seat two years ago but was unsuccessful.

Fanny Dickens.

Fanny, the sister of Charles Dickens, was one of the first students entered at the old Royal Academy of Music when it opened its doors at Tenterden street in 1823, and at that time the students lived at the academy, only going home for the week end. "Every Sunday," Dickens told Forster, "I was at the academy at 9 o'clock in the morning to fetch her (Fanny), and we walked back there together at night."
And the Sunday itself the two spent in the Marshalsea prison, where their father and mother then resided, owing to Mr. Dickens having "failed to pro-pitiolate his creditors." While her father was still in prison Fanny won a prize at the academy, and the future novelist, then engaged in pasting labels on blacking pots at 7 shillings a week, was present to see her receive it.—Westminster Gazette.THOUSANDS

IN CARRYING OF THE HOST

Hundred Thousand People Participate in Ceremonies Held in Canadian City—Cardinal Vannutelli One of the Principal Prelates in the Exercises.Montreal, Que., Sept. 12.—One hundred thousand people were in the great Eucharistic congress procession at Montreal and participated in the carrying of the host. The most solemn processional known in the Roman Catholic church throughout the world was held for the first time in the history of this continent. The spectacle was witnessed by 500,000 people, of whom probably at least 5,000 were Americans. The parade required four hours to pass a given point and all along the route as his eminence, Cardinal Vannutelli, the pope's legate, carried the host aloft adoring thousands knelt. Thousands of dollars were spent in flowers and the choicest roses, carnations, etc., from every state in the Union and every part of Canada strewed the procession route.
The aged Vannutelli, seventy-four years old, stood the march well.Several hundred policemen and firemen headed the parade and after them came between 5,000 and 8,000 ecclesiastics, including religious orders from every part of the world, and many Knights of Columbus, St.
Vincent de Paul, Catholic Order of Foresters and C. M. B. branches from the United States and Canada and scores of fraternal bodies. There were twenty special choirs in the parade.

Many People Fainted.

In the terrible crush many people fainted, but no fatalities are recorded. From a spectacular standpoint the procession exceeded any religious one ever seen on this continent. Cardinal Vannutelli was attired in magnificently valuable robes and surrounding him were the brilliantly uniformed military guard of the Sixty-fifth regiment and scores of ecclesiastics gorgeously robed in the papal colors and in cloths of gold, scarlet and other colors. Every important Franciscan order throughout the world was represented. The varied costumes made a wonderful spectacle.
The host was carried beneath a magnificent, especially designed canopy.A few of the more distinguished American ecclesiastics were Cardinal Gibbons; Archbishops Ireland, St.
Paul; Quigley, Chicago; O'Connell, Boston; Pitaval, Santa Fe; Keane, Dubuque; Messner, Milwaukee; Farley, New York; Ryan, Philadelphia; Bishops Richter, Grand Rapids; Allen, Mobile; Lawler, St. Paul; Moeller, Cincinnati; Corrigan, Baltimore; Rhodes, Chicago; Blenk, New Orleans; Ousack, New York; McDonnell, Brooklyn; Colton, Buffalo; Maes, Covington; Christosom, Denver; McGol-rick, Duluth, and Hartley, Columbus.
There were 125 bishops and archbishops in line and over 200 societies.
Upwards of a hundred special excurions reached Montreal during the day.Visitors from the United States were especially impressed with the magnitude, splendor and reverence of the procession. The city is so crowded that 200,000 are sleeping on the slopes of Mount Royal and in other city parks.

Bank President Dies.

Abilene, Kan., Sept. 12.—I. S. Hal-lam, president of the Abilene State bank, died following a collapse. He died in the home built by John A.
Flack, the missing cashier of the bank, who is said to be over $25,000 short in his accounts. Before going to the Flack home he signed a contract pledging all of his property to make good Flack's shortage. His death is attributed to the nervous strain under which he labored following the discovery of the alleged shortage.

Gagadig Gigadab.

There was a quaint old man in Manchester, England, who for many years went by the unique name of Gagadig Gigadab. His original name was John Smith, and for many years he brooded over the possibilities of mistaken identity involved in it. The name figured frequently in criminal records, and he became abnormally apprehensive lest he might be confused with some of the bad John Smiths. At last what he feared so much actually happened.
One morning the papers reported the arrest of an accountant in a bank for embezzlement, and through some blunder of the reporter the identity of the embezzler was confused with the subject of this article, who was also a bank accountant. Then and there he determined to assume a name like unto no other ever borne by mortal man. And in Gagadig Gigadab most people will agree that he succeeded in so doing.—New York Tribune.

Minnesota Man Killed.

Duluth, Sept. 12.—William Cloutier Smith of Hibbing was almost instantly killed in a railroad wreck at Whitefish, Mont., and his remains, shockingly mangled, have arrived at Hibbing. Particulars of the accident are not known here.

F. AUGUSTUS HEINZE.

While on Honeymoon.

SUED ON HIS HONEYMOON

F. Augustus Heinze Lands in Butte
With Bride to Face Lawsuits.Butte, Mont., Sept. 12.—L. P. Donovan, receiver for the Hypocsa Mining company, a defunct corporation organized by Heinze, instituted suit against F. Augustus Heinze for $21,467 to satisfy a judgment secured three years ago by Johnston T. Hagerty against the company. Hagerty was injured in a cage accident, losing one of his legs.
He secured judgment against the company for personal injuries in the district court in the sum of $12,575.
The receiver is trying to collect from Heinze the sum of the judgment. The suit asks for interest and attorney's fees, which bring the total amount of the suit to more than $21,000. It is alleged Heinze misappropriated $35, 000 received from property which had been held by the Hypocsa company.
Heinze has just arrived in Butte with his bride on his honeymoon trip.CLERK COMMITS MURDER AND SUICIDEKills Prominent Young Lady and Himself.Redfield, S. D., Sept. 12.—Crazed by jealousy H. V. Harveson, a drug clerk of this city, shot and killed Dale Kiser, a prominent young lady, seriously wounded Dr. F. E. Clinite, a dentist, and then killed himself.The shooting occurred at the young lady's home. Dr. Clinite had been calling upon her and just as he was leaving was met at the door by Harveson, who shot him twice through the right lung and once through the arm after Clinite had fallen. He then shot the girl above the heart, killing her almost instantly. Clinite and Miss Kiser fell in the hallway of the house and Harveson stepped out on the porch and shot himself through the head.
Clinite is dangerously wounded but has a chance of recovery. All three were popular young people. The Ki-ser girl was nineteen years of age and was born and raised in Redfield. Clinite came from Aurora, Ill., several years ago.Harveson had been employed as a drug clerk for the past two years. His home is Centralia, Ill. Miss Kiser had kept company with both young men during the past year and the two had appeared to be good friends and no one suspected that there was any ill feeling between them.

INDIAN MAKES CONFESSION

Says That He Intended to Plead Guilty.Deadwood, S. D., Sept. 12.—On a statement of the defendant, Fox Belly, a Sioux Indian, on trial here in the federal court for the murder of Horn Cloud, an Indian policeman, on the Rosebud reservation last spring, the case came to a sudden end. Just as the evidence was about all in Fox Belly declared he had intended to plead guilty to murder in the second degree and through interpretation he was misunderstood and pleaded not guilty. The plea was changed and he will be sentenced later.

Child Killed by Fall.

Webster City, Ia., Sept. 12.—While playing in the second story of the Blairnsburg school building Arthur Walrath, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Del Walrath, fell out of the open window and was instantly killed. His neck was broken.

Boy Killed by Train.

Centerville, Ia., Sept. 12.—While playing on the railroad track at Brazil a small mining town near here, Jack Radwisch, aged eight years, was run over by an empty car and killed.

Elk Near Rapid City.

Rapid City, S. D., Sept. 12.—Hunters and forest rangers coming in from the country a few miles west of Rapid City, report seeing a small band of elk about twelve miles from the city. It is thought their presence in that section is due to the forest fires in the Northwest.NINE MEN MEET DEATH IN TUNNEL

LAWYERS IN GERMANY.

They Cannot Advise, and Their Fees Are Fixed by Law.The German law fixes the exact fees which a German attorney has to claim for all kinds of professional work, and the rechtsanwalt can charge neither more nor less.These fees apply to all matters of the civil code and of criminal cases.
The amount, according to the Green tag, depends exclusively on the value of the object of contention.It is an old though still unfulfilled wish of German lawyers to have a new fixed list of fees, not made after the old and low standard of the year 1879, but made with consideration to the changes—the numerous decided changes—which have taken place since that year.The rechtsanwalt is attorney and counselor at law all in one (in England solicitor and barrister). The rechtsan-walt can never be a business man, as is the case in the United States.The exercise of the law is not to be considered a calling of profession, but is to be looked on more as a public office. According to the lawyers' code of the 1st of July, 1878, a lawyer is charged publicly with certain duties.He is obliged to have his residence in the town or district where he is appointed (so called residence duty).
Further, he must conduct himself in and out of office in a way befitting his professional and social standing—i. e., duty due to his rank. Thus a lawyer is forbidden to advertise in newspapers, by canvassing, etc., or to buy or take over a practice already made as being unworthy of his calling.His position in society is between officials and scholars, and through custom and law he is compelled to keep the position to the last degree. This compulsion to keep one's rank has given rise to the existence of committees called anwaltskammern, whose duty it is to keep a strict watch that no lawyer dishonors his calling. These committees have a strict code of punishment, ranging to complete expulsion from office. In this way the lawyers in Germany have a good and honored position. In fact, there is scarcely a country in which the lawyer enjoys more respect and confidence.

Farmer Commits Suicide.

Bemidji, Minn., Sept. 12.—Because he could not purchase his old farm and again live in Minnesota, Herman Knopke, formerly of Nary, in northern Humboldt county, erected a crude gallows three miles east of Nary and hanged himself to the limb of a tree.

LOOSENED A STRIP OF ROCK

Explosion Sent Great Mass of Boulders Down on Workmen in the Old Erie Tunnel at Bergen Hill—Four of the Dead Men Are Known to Be Americans.New York, Sept. 12.—At least nine laborers were killed outright and ten others injured, all of them seriously, in the collapse of an overhanging shoulder of rock from above the western mouth of the old Erie tunnel under Bergen Hill, connecting the Erie terminal in Jersey City with its westward divisions.The collapse was directly beneath the edge of the Hudson boulevard, and,
though the actual slip was out of sight of the holiday crowds, thousands lined the boulevard all afternoon, peering down at the work of removal.Of the known dead four were Americans, three were unidentified, and two were foreigners.For several years the Erie has been working at the task of carving an opening cut for its passenger trains through the solid rock of Bergen hill, which in some spots is 300 feet high.
The cut was opened for travel not long ago, but there still remains the task of newing a common portal for the old tunnel and the new cut out of the ledge.Eight sets of drills were pounding which loosened a strip of rock from a wall forty feet wide and twenty feet high. It crashed to the spot where the gang was working.It is known that there were more men in the gang than have yet been taken out or are accounted for, but as many of them were seen running into the mouth of the tunnel it is supposed they escaped.

GAYNOR ISSUES A DENIAL

Never Said He Would Not Be Candidate for Governor.St. James, L. I., Sept. 12.—"I have not discussed politics with any one since my illness," declared Mayor Gaynor when asked if he had made any definite statement to Charles F.
Murphy, the Tammany chieftain, regarding the gubernatorial situation.
The mayor made this remark when told that a Tammany politician had been quoted as saying that, in the course of a conversation with Charles F. Murphy on Thursday, the mayor had declared he would not be a candidate for governor."Any such statement is unqualifiedly false," said the mayor angrily. "Mr.
Murphy simply paid a friendly call at my house. He only stayed ten minutes and we did not discuss politics at any time. No one is authorized to make any such statement as coming from me. I am not talking politics with any one. What I want to do now is to rest my voice and get well."The mayor appears to be getting well rapidly. His voice is much stronger.

MAY HAVE PERISHED IN FIRE

South Dakota Man Missing and Friends Have Fears.Sioux Falls, S. D., Sept. 12.—Nothing having been heard from him after persistent efforts, it now is feared that Leslie Oehler, a South Dakota man, lost his life in the forest fire of the West. The missing man is from Big Stone, where his father resides. He was married about a year ago and has a son. For some time prior to his departure for Spokane and other points on the coast he had been in business at Lemmon, one of the new towns on the coast extension of the St. Paul railroad in the northwestern portion of South Dakota. It has been ascertained that some weeks ago he enlisted in the fire fighting force of the government forestry division at Spokane.

Boil Causes Death.

Marshalltown, Ia., Sept. 12.—A boil on her nose caused the death of Bessie Burritt, aged twenty-five years, of general septicemia at St. Thomas' hospital. The young woman began to suffer with the boil and Sunday last the boil was lanced. Symptoms of blood poisoning began to develop and the patient grew rapidly worse.

Bullion Stolen in Transit.

Seattle, Sept. 12.—Gold bullion valued at $57,500, part of a consignment of $170,000 from the Washington Alaska bank of Fairbanks to the Dexter-Horton National bank of Seattle on the steamship Humboldt, was stolen in transit. Lead was substituted in the strong box that contained it.

Bolt Kills Nine Horses.

Binford, N. D., Sept. 12.—Lightning struck and killed nine horses owned by a railroad construction gang southwest of this place. James Murphy, an employe and connected with the construction crew, was ten feet from the horse when the bolt fell, and was temporarily stunned.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1910

Our democratic friends might as well come in and make it unanimous in Minnesota this fall.

The primary election is but a few days distant, and next week Tuesday will decide the future of many an anxious candidate.

Hearst has declared that he is a democrat, which is taken that this is a republican year the country over.

Good roads is one of the hobbies of the European government, and it is stated that a famous road is being built from Berlin to Potsdam that is costing $200 a foot.

There are five candidates for the republican nomination for representative in the 45th district, one of whom is Bob. Dunn. The district is entitled to three representatives.

A Wisconsin candidate for office on the state ticket suicided when a campaign canard was sprung on him. Candidates for office in Bob LaFollette's state cannot have become used to the method of modern politics.

The five republican candidates for the nomination of representative in this district are all sure of being the nominees of the party at the primary election. Some one is in line for a job next week and three men will be congratulating the other two on their popularity after the votes are counted.

Gov. Eberhart has done as much, if not more, than any other man to advertise Minnesota as it was through his efforts that the conservation congress held in St. Paul during the week past was brought to the state, and the Minnesota meeting has been the most talked of and most widely discussed of any public gathering that has taken place in recent years.

John Lind has made his word good and he absolutely refuses to become the democratic candidate for governor of Minnesota. He meant what he said when he informed the kitchen cabinet that he could not and would not make the run even if the democrats placed him in nomination. The attempt of Frank Day and his followers to make a prevaricator of him failed.

The government has commenced 100 suits in the federal court at Ferguson Falls to set aside the transfers of lands from the full blood Indians to white men. Uncle Sam asks that the titles to those lands be again invested in the Indian allottees and the sales be declared null and void. The Indians have no right to dispose of their lands and the government is going to see that the crafty white men do not slip the noose over poor lo's neck and get the rich farming lands that rightfully belong to them and their kind.

Now that the democratic party has lost their one man whom they were willing to crawl on their knees to in order to induce him to accept the nomination which they had offered him for governor with the understanding that without him as their candidate they were forever lost, how are they going to induce some one to take his place with sure defeat staring them in the face. This would be a good year for Frank Day to show his loyalty to the party by stepping into the breach and going down to defeat as a sacrifice. As Day is responsible for the present condition he certainly could not refuse if he was requested to become the dummy.

The people of the country who predicted that the meeting in St. Paul during the past week, at which President Taft and ex-President Roosevelt spoke, would mean the parting of the ways between those two gentlemen are entitled to another guess. Those who heard the addresses can attest to the fact that their ideas run parallel, and as the Princeton Union says: "Mr. Roosevelt is in favor of tariff revision and so is Mr. Taft. Both advocate government supervision of capitalization of public service and interstate corporations and hold similar views on most all important topics. No hostility whatever to Mr. Taft's course of procedure was indicated in Mr. Roosevelt's speech.

John Dietz, known as the "hero of Cameron dam," seems to have the whole state of Wisconsin scared. Public sympathy was with him to a great extent when he held off several deputy sheriffs who went out to his cabin near Winter, Wis., to arrest him for not allowing logs to be moved until he received his pay, but his act in shooting a fellow man in a dispute has again brought him into prominence, and he appears to be able to bluff the authorities who have attempted to arrest him with his Winchester and automatic revolvers. The talk about having to call out state troops to arrest a man would convey the impression that the local authorities are scared of their lives when Dietz's name is mentioned.

The candidacy of Senator Alderman for nomination by the republican party to the position he now holds should certainly meet with the approval of the voters at the primary election on Sept. 20th. Mr. Alderman's work during the last session of the legislature was most satisfactory to the people of this county and to the district, and he was one of the most conspicuous figures in the senate. His counsel was sought on matters of importance in shaping legislation that affected the state at large as well as this particular section, and he was recognized in debate on the floor of the senate as an able and convincing talker. Northern Minnesota and especially this section of the state will have matters of vital importance before the legislature at the coming session and if the question of ability and able representation enters into the consideration of the voters there is no question as to what the verdict will be.

Drugs and Sickness.

It is not too much to say that the medical profession today no longer believes that any drug (with a few exceptions, like quinine in malaria, mercury and the antitoxins) will cure a disease as such. All that it will do is so to modify conditions as to help the body in its fight against disease.

We are no longer content, in the being phrase of Voltaire, to "pour drugs of which we know little into bodies of which we know less." What will help one patient will harm another, and what may be beneficial in the early stage of a disease will be useless or even injurious in a later stage.

In the language of Captain Cuttle, the effect of a drug, like "the bearing of an observation," "depends on the application on it." It is neither rational nor safe blindly to swallow down a drug which is highly recommended in a certain disease and expect it to "do the rest." There is no such thing as a universal cure for a disease nor even a remedy which can be relied upon as "a good thing to take" at any and all stages of it.—Dr. Woods Hutchinson in Delinctor

AFRAID OF MOONLIGHT.

The Reason Porto Ricans Carry Umbrellas at Night.

"The majority of Porto Ricans have instilled in them from earliest infancy a superstitious dread of the full moon's rays," said a business man who has just returned from that country.

"It is a curious sight to the American visitor to note men and women going along the streets and highways of the island with umbrellas raised over their heads in the lone watches of the night, and the more brilliantly the moon is shining the greater will be the number of people who are thus protecting themselves from her beams. Out in the sequestered rural districts a gay mounted cavalier will be met at midnight, his bridle rein in one hand and an unpraised umbrella in the other. It looks weird and also ridiculous, but the natives do it for a peculiar reason. They are possessed of the conviction that Luna's full light striking upon mortals is almost sure to make them mentally unsound—that is to say, lunatics—and that is why they interpose a shield between them and her dazzling brightness.

"To sleep where the moon could shine full upon one is, in the view of a Porto Rican, to tempt fate, and it would be a daring one who could be hired to do it for any consideration."—Baltimore American.

BRAKEMAN KILLED THIS MORNING

E. D. Gray, Freight Brakeman, Falls Between Cars of Freight Near Deerwood

LEGS AND ARMS CUT OFF

Died on Hand Car Taking Him to Deerwood—Leaves Wife and Two Children in Duluth

E. D. Gray, a freight brakeman, of Duluth fell between the rear cars of the way freight as it was about a mile and a half from Deerwood and was run over, the accident occurring at about 8:40 this morning.

One leg was severed at the knee, the other close to his body, one arm was torn off and the other mutilated. The bleeding and maimed body was picked up from under the cars and put on a hand car and taken to Deerwood. The unfortunate man expired on the hand car before the crew was able to reach Deerwood.

The deceased brakeman was well known in Brainerd. He made his home in Duluth and leaves a wife and two small children.

Returns From State Fair

Freeman Thorp returned Saturday from the state fair and expressed himself as well satisfied with the showing that Crow Wing county had made at the fair. The Minneapolis Journal had a front page article and the Pioneer Press of St. Paul also mentioned the exhibit. Mr. Thorp gained the floor of the conservation congress and brought the matter of his new method of raising crops in dry soil to the attention of the congress. His new method for conserving the moisture of the soil attracted much attention. Col. Thorp has promised the Dispatch an article covering the whole subject.

Death of W. F. Gilpatrick

Wm. F. Gilpatrick died at the Northwestern hospital in this city on Saturday after an illness of ten days. The deceased was commonly known as "Old Gill," and for many years has been a familiar character on the streets of this city, and was known to nearly all of the old settlers and lumbermen in this section. For many years he lived in the northern part of this county on a homestead near Cross Lake, and although he had disposed of the timber on the same long ago and later on had given up title to the land he continued to make the place his home when not employed. He was an eccentric individual, and his own worst enemy. Little was known of his early history as he kept his own council on family matter, but he was a man of some education and even in his secluded manner of living he succeeded in keeping well posted on the current events of the day. His age was 73 years.

Mr. Gilpatrick was an old soldier, a member of the Minnesota second battery of light artillery, was Wm. A. Hotchkiss, captain, and was mustered in Jan. 28, 1862, and transferred to the veteran reserve corps Aug. 1, 1863, and among the battles in which he participated were those of Perryville, Oct. 8, 1862, and Stone River in December of the same year. He was born in the state of Maine, and was well connected, but his relatives, if any of them are still living are unknown to anyone in this section.

His funeral occurred this afternoon, the remains being laid to rest in the soldiers' reservation in Evergreen cemetery.

AT WORK ON CITY DIRECTORY

John H. Ley, the Publisher, Making Good Progress in the Work of Compilation

John H. Ley, the publisher of the Brainerd city directory, is making rapid progress in the compilation of the sixth volume which will be issued from the press in December 1910.

He has almost finished his work on the south side and has canvassed most of southeast Brainerd. The business men have been generous in their support. The business district is all compiled and ready for the printer.

"In the territory I have covered so far," said Mr. Ley, "I think I have not seen five vacant houses. All appear to be occupied, and in this regard Brainerd makes a better showing than Bemidji, Breckenridge and other towns I have worked in. There are few idle men here. Everybody is working and conditions seem to be as good or even better in Brainerd than a lot of outside towns. The only way to size up any place is by comparing it with other towns."

FIRST GAME OF FOOT BALL

Koop's All Stars Defeat "Tub" Low's Fire Eaters—Score was 65 to 0

The first game of foot ball of the season was played on the north side Saturday morning. In a fierce game, full of brilliant plays and exciting runs Koop's All Stars beat "Tub" Low's Fire Eaters by a score of 5 to 0. Low's play as quarter back was very good. All the new rules as recently promulgated were given a try-out, as well as a lot of rules no one ever dreamed of. The referee was R. Bush, who is still alive. The time of the game was one hour and fifteen minutes.

The lineup of the All Stars was: Mann, re; Ernest, rt; L. Koop, c; V. Koop, c; Tucker, lg; F. Taylor, lt; V. Rounds, le; Trent, rh; Carlson, fb; Imgrund, lb; W. Koop, qb.

The Low Fire Eaters were: Hemstead, re; Simmons, rt; Peterson, rg; Larson, c; McLean, lg; Hagberg, lt; Breason, le; Cleary, rh; Durham, fb; Orne, lb; Low, qb.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"Cow and the Moon" Tonight

The "Cow and the Moon" which appears at the Brainerd opera house tonight is said to be most entrancing musically. Scepticism as to the possibility of composing anything in tune to such a title is forgotten from the moment the orchestra plays the opening strains of the pretty prelude and it is authoritatively claimed that as much credit is due to the score as to the libretto of this trick show. That well known composer of extravaganza hit, Carleton Lee Colby, is responsible for all of the music and numerous press criticisms from those who know, compel the inference that Carleton has once again wrought most tunelessly.

During the action of this new vehicle for extravaganza the principals and the chorus will be heard to great advantage in the following songs, especially arranged for "The Cow and the Moon." "Town Hall Tonight," a satirical affair; a duet number "If They Are all as Nice as You," which is a big hit, a new idea. In a rag, "They all Look Alike to Mabel"; "In Seville" a Spanish number that is sure to appeal to the popular fancy of the romantically inclined.

CITIZENS EXPRESS THEIR OPINIONS

Regarding Municipal Ownership, Stoner and Gordon Propositions For Furnishing Light

MORE PEOPLE INTERVIEWED

A Variety of Opinions Expressed and Any Number of Reasons Advanced

A representative of the Dispatch continued his task of seeing people and hearing their expressions of opinion as to which policy is the best to pursue in the matter of electric light or current.

W. H. Gemmell—"Naturally I should and do favor whatever plan is for the best interests of all the citizens of Brainerd not only now, but in the future. From the little opportunity I have had to study the question in all its phases, I am lead to the conclusion that at this time a municipal plant is not feasible. Our finances do not warrant it. There is left then only the Little Falls and Crow Wing propositions. To my mind, in view of the hydraulic engineer's report on the water power and the fact that included with the current from water power is an auxiliary steam plant as against transmission for 30 miles without anything to fall back on in case of line trouble, the Crow Wing plan is much the better one, rates being equal. Of course, the city's interests must be properly guarded by a carefully drawn contract and bond."

C. D. Johnson—"I prefer the Crow Wing proposition."

A. T. Fisher—"I think if the city council would quit scrapping and get down to business, we would have this matter settled."

Dr. R. A. Beise—"I am for municipal ownership every time."

J. M. Glunt—"I am a believer in home industries. But it looks to me as though we would be in the dark. They seem to be making poor headway."

J. Henry Long—"I favor the city putting in a steam plant of its own, and then follow with something more permanent."

George W. Moody—"I don't know a thing about it."

W. A. M. Johnston—"I favor Crow Wing by all means."

John M. Bye—"I favor a municipal plant."

I. T. Dean—"I want a Crow Wing plant which pays its taxes here. A municipal plant will not pay in the world."

John Mann—"I favor the Crow Wing proposition. I should think the majority of our citizens would favor this."

O. A. Peterson—"I favor a municipal plant, and do not care for either the Stoner or Gordon propositions."

W. E. Brockway—"I am not interested and don't care a continental, just as long as we get the juice."

C. M. Patek—"Crow Wing plant is what I am in favor of."

S. H. Parker—"Municipal ownership every time if we can have it. We ought to do something and not keep monkeying around. The Stoner and Little Falls propositions are both good."

J. W. Koop—"Whatever is best and cheapest for the city suits me, and by all means give us light quick."

Ray H. Paine—"I think Crow Wing is the best."

Miss Marie Canan—"I hope they will come to some conclusion soon for we must have light."

Mrs. L. M. Koop—"I don't know much about it, but we must have light."

Dr. A. F. Groves—"In choosing between Crow Wing and its auxiliary steam plant with current at two and one quarter cents per K. W. hour and the Little Falls offer I favor Crow Wing every time. It is municipal ownership just as much under Crow Wing or Little Falls as it would be under a plan whereby the city manufactures its current. Whether the city buys or manufactures current it controls the sale of the same."

H. Ribbel—"I would express myself as certainly favoring the Crow Wing proposition in preference to the Little Falls project. With the Crow Wing proposition we are getting something tangible and the people interested in establishing it will benefit the city."

Dr. J. L. Frederick—"Crow Wing and get it going."

C. N. Parker—"I am in favor of the one the city council and the water and light board decide to take."

J. A. Arnold—"To my notion Crow Wing is the best plant."

R. J. Hartley—"As between Crow Wing and Little Falls I favor Crow Wing."

E. C. Bane—"Crow Wing is the best in sight."

L. J. Cale—"Under present prospects I favor Stoner's proposition. I like municipal ownership but we cannot get it. Stoner's Crow Wing proposition is the only one tangible to me."

W. W. Bane—"I rather favor the Stoner proposition. It is the best, the current is the cheapest and there is also less chance for interruption of service."

D. A. Peterson—"It's hard to tell or say what to do when a man hasn't studied it."

A. Mark—"Never studied it out and don't understand either one very much. But I believe we would rather have Crow Wing."

A. Hanson—"I have not thought very much about it, but I am in favor of a municipal plant."

F. A. Farrar—"I favor Crow Wing every time."

W. A. Fleming—"It seems to me the Little Falls proposition is the cheapest and wouldn't necessitate the expenditure of a large sum of money. It seems we owe enough already."

Wheat Yield of Any Place I Have Visited" Said Hays

"The county of Crow Wing makes the best showing in the line of wheat of any place I have visited in my travels in the west," said Mr. Hays, of the Hays-Weaver Milling Co. "Geo. Fruth of this county brought in a load of wheat Saturday morning which went 30 bushels to the acre. It was blue steam wheat and went 63 pounds to the bushel. The threshing records of this county have surprised all the farmers and with the good prices now prevailing there should be no discontent among them. We commenced grinding Saturday morning. The hard spring wheat of a timber country is unsurpassed by the wheat of any other district. Crow Wing county has good soil and the drought does not appear to affect it like other places in this upper country."

CHAUFFEURS ARE SLOW

Automobile Ordinance Passed in August—No Chauffeur Has Paid for a License

Automobile ordinance, No. 229, was passed on August 15th and under its terms was included the payment of a license fee of $2.50, which sum was due from every chauffeur in the city, payable upon the enactment of the ordinance.

Up to date not a single navigator of a benzine buggy has come forward with his two dollars and a half and the city clerk and the chief of police are fearful that if the license fee is not collected or paid in now it will be extremely difficult to collect when the heavy snows of winter block the travel of the autos.

All licenses issued now date from time license is applied for to April 1st of next year.

A Reliable Medicine—Not a Narcotic

Mrs. F. Marti, St. Joe, Mich., says Foley's Honey and Tar saved her little boy's life. She writes: "Our little boy contracted a severe bronchial trouble and as the doctor's medicine did not cure him, I gave him Foley's Honey and Tar in which I gave great faith. It cured the cough as well as the choking and gagging spells, and he got well in a short time. Foley's Honey and Tar has many times saved us much trouble and we are never without it in the house." ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure
The only baking powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar
No Alum, No Lime Phosphate

There was no other course. The New England boiled dinner and other dishes like pork and beans, boiled codfish and pumpkin pie best appealed to the appetite of Chief Justice Melville W. Fuller. It was said in Washington that the Fuller Saturday night dinner was baked beans and nothing else, and this story is told: "One evening the chief justice, possibly forgetting that it was Saturday, asked a distinguished English jurist how to come to dinner with him. When the beans came on the Englishman promptly declined them. Mrs. Fuller showed some embarrassment, whereupon the Englishman amiably said: 'Never mind, I'll make it up in the next course.' But, good Lord," exclaimed the chief justice, "there isn't any other course." And there wasn't.

In addition to being a very small eater the chief justice was a moderate smoker of modestly priced cigars. He was said to smoke the same kind of cigars, as far as they were obtainable, that he smoked when he was struggling hard to establish a living law business in Chicago in the old days. He said he was attached to these cheap cigars by ties of sentiment and tender recollection and that nothing else would taste so good to him.—Springfield Republican.

"Pins and Needles."

After being for a long time in a constrained attitude a peculiar numbness and pricking are often felt in the arm, leg or foot. This is caused by some interruption to the circulation and can usually be removed by rubbing or exercise. The reason of the sensation, which is decidedly uncomfortable while it lasts, is that pressure for a certain length of time deadens the sensibility of a nerve. When this pressure is suddenly removed, as straightening out the leg after sitting with it doubled underneath the body, sensibility gradually returns to the nerve, and as each nerve fiber composing the trunk regains its normal condition of sensibility a pricking sensation is felt, and these successive prickings from the successive awakenings of the numerous fibers have not usually been called "pins and needles."

The Prayer That Hurt.

A member of a certain Massachusetts parish prominent for his thrift and personal consequence was also notorious for his overbearing assumptions and pompous airs. Under the distress and fright of a dangerous illness he "put up notes" on several successive Sundays, and after his recovery, according to usage, he offered a note to be read by the minister expressive of his thanks. The minister was somewhat "large" in this part of his prayer, recalling the danger and the previous petitions of the "squire" and returning his grateful acknowledgments with the prayer that the experience might be blessed to the spiritual welfare of the restored man. He closed with these words:

"And we pray, O Lord, that thy servant may be cured of that ungodly strut, so offensive in the sanctuary."

Law and Geography.

From the half timers' papers written at a recent term examination: "Some of the chief inventions of the last 150 years are having an act so that no person under fourteen years must go into the public house. Another act was so that no person under the age of sixteen years must smoke cigars, pipes and cigarettes, and no person under that age can be served with any. My brother Bill is now all right for this invention. He was sixteen last week." Here is a geography answer: "The river system of Canada is what you might call very good, but sometimes they shoot the rapids, and unless you are a red Indian this is very troublesome at times, especially when you get sucked under like Captain Webb."—Manchester Guardian.

The Earliest Cigars.

The earliest mention of cigars in English occurs in a book dated 1735. A traveler in Spanish America named Cockburn, whose narrative was published in that year, describes how he met three friars at Nicaragua, who, he says, "gave us some segars to smoke; these are Leaves of Tobacco rolled up in such manner that they serve both for a Pipe and Tobacco itself; they know no other way here, for there is no such thing as a Tobacco Pipe throughout New Spain."

Sure Sign.

"What is the sign when a man parts his hair in the middle?" said the old fellow in the front row of the orchestra to a friend loud enough to be heard by the young man behind them. "It's a sign that he's not baldheaded," replied the young man, leaning forward.—Yonkers Statesman.

Hard Luck.

"Poor man, your life must be full of hardships!"

"Ow true yer words are, liddy! Only t'other day I picked up a ticket for a ball an' couldn't use it cos I hadn't got a evenin' suit!"—London Ideas.

MEXICO BEGINS ITS LIBERTY CENTENNIAL

One Thousand Municipalities Devote September to Celebration of Their Independence.

Nations of the Earth Send Special Envoys to Participate In Gorgeous Festivities

ONE thousand municipalities of Mexico have begun to celebrate the centennial of the nation's independence. From Sonora to Yucatan the republic is aflame by day with flags, streamers and festoons of bunting. Eight million electric lights give a luminous setting to the night fiestas.

During the month of September the minds of peon, charro, jefe politico, merchant, soldier, seaman, student, clergy and statesman will be focused on the story of Mexico since Miguel Hidalgo, the priest of Dolores, rang the village bell toward midnight of Sept. 15, 1810, and proclaimed freedom from the rule of Spain.

Every nation of the world, save three or four, will send official representatives to join in the festal acclaim. Carrying the greetings of the United States will be Curtis Guild, Jr., of Massachusetts, special ambassador representing the president, and a distinguished party of senators, representatives and laymen.

Americans living in Mexico have decided to commemorate the centennial with a peace shaft to cost $50,000 in gold.

Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany is sending emissaries to unveil a statue of Alexander von Humboldt, his gift to the republic of Mexico. Baron von Humboldt made a journey for scientific research in Mexico nearly a decade before Hidalgo became a martyr of liberty.

Spain Returns Relief.

Spain will signify her consent that bygone shall be considered bygones by returning the uniform of the revolutionary general and patriot, General Jose Maria Morelos. The king of Spain has entrusted this famous relic of war to his special ambassador, who will present it amid great rejoicing to President Diaz.

At the instant the uniform changes hands a salute of twenty-one guns will be fired, bells in all the churches of Mexico will be rung, fireworks will shoot upward, bands will play the national air, and the Mexican flag will be broken over the national palace.

The government of France, in token of her friendliness, will give back to Mexico the symbolic silver keys which were presented to General Elie Frederic Forey, commander of the French troops, when he entered the capital in 1863 and established a provisional government. It is an international amity that will stir the Mexican heart to its depths.

The emperor of China will bestow a memorial of the nature of which has not been disclosed. The Ottoman empire will present a costly clock tower to stand in the capital, a memento of Turkish friendship. Japan will display a shipload of her wares in the Crystal palace and leave, besides, some substantial token of her regard.

Hidalgo, Morelos and other heroes will be apotheosized in a hundred ways on a hundred occasions. Of the living, President Diaz will be most toasted. Others whose names will be linked with the progress of Mexico are Vice President Ramon Corral and Senator Jose Yves Limantour, minister of finance and a recognized genius in monetary science and statesmanship.

Mexico City will be the splendid center of things. For months the capital has been burnishing itself for the coming of its guests. Governor Landa of the federal district intends there shall be everywhere in his domain the neatness of a hausfrau's kitchen.

Capital Making Ready.

Streets have been paved anew. Nearly every block in town is resplendent in a fresh coat of paint. Avenues, alleys and patios smell of cleanliness.

On the zocalo, or Plaza Mayor, the great cathedral has been scrubbed inside and out. On the Hill of the Grasshopper the glories of the castle of Chapultepec, the summer home of the president, have been recalled from the dimness of age. The magnificent Louis XIV, state dining room is a new dream of the splendor of another day. The Pompeian corridor presents its figures in colors that glow.

Matching the immaculate aspect of the city will be the prim holiday look of the people. The unconventional white garb of the peon is under an official ban during the month of September. Those who wish to mingle in the crowds of the public fiestas must be clothed in European style. They are admonished, under penalty of banishment from the view, to be scrupulously clean in dress and person.

That none may have the excuse of poverty to hide behind, the municipality will provide free baths, free shaves, free hair cuts and free laundries for the recleansing of soiled linen. The heavy hand of the law will close upon the palm of the beggar that is outstretched for largess. The alms seeker will be cared for, but in places where visitors may not see. In the vernacular, Mexico is going to put up a front and wear her Sunday clothes week days.

Mexican hospitality will be lavished as never before upon the nation's guests. Visiting notables are to have carriages and automobiles at their disposal at all times without a cent for tribute. Special servants at the beck and call of their temporary masters day and night are provided for. Each dignitary from a sister power will have a postoffice box of his own and a carrier in livery specially detailed to deliver and call for his mail three times daily.

Some of the delegates to the congress of Americanists will be quartered in the famous old turpentine hotel, that massive pile into whose patio the American officers rode their horses in 1847 and stabled them where the guests might look down from the balconies upon them.

Lavish Hospitality Promised.

Of all the glorious fetes which the Mexicans have prepared themselves and their guests, those on Sept. 15, 16 and 19 will be the ones of particular splendor. They have been planned on a scale of grandeur quite unprecedented in the history of Mexico and rarely equaled anywhere in the western hemisphere.

Centuries of Mexican life are to be revealed in a living panorama stretching from the iron horse to the zocalo. This pageant of the past and present will move through the Paseo de la Reforma and Avenida San Francisco and Juarez to the national palace, where the decisive incidents of Mexican history will be re-enacted.

All periods are to be represented, from the days of the Aztec and Tlaxcalan warriors down through the era of the conquistadores, the earlier refindalzo rang at the like hour a hundred years ago.

It will be a signal for huzzas from every throat. The electric flag on the lofty dome of the cathedral near by will burst into light and wave its luminous greeting to the throng below. A trained choir of hundreds of members will sound the first chord of the centennial hymn. The 8,000,000 lights throughout the republic will be turned on full force, and millions will join in a long distance response to the joyful proceedings in the zocalo.

On the following day, Sept. 16, the monument to independence in the Paseo de la Reforma is to be dedicated, the ceremony to be followed with a parade of 10,000 troops under the declaration arches and on to the national palace for review. This parade will give a good idea of the strength of the military arm of the nation.

In the way of social functions the reception by President Diaz in the national palace on the night of Sept. 19 will eclipse all previous standards of Mexican magnificence. It is to be a $200,000 affair, with 500 servants in costume specially imported from Paris for the occasion. The grand ball, which will be gathered the beauty, the chic and the officialdom of Mexico and the other powers, is to be staged in the central patio of the palace. Over the patio has been reared a huge canopy of steel weighing hundreds of tons.

In the larger cities of the republic there will be doings quite as interesting, if not so elaborate, as those at the capital. In Chihuahua, capital of the state of that name, the new $1,000,000 palace is to be dedicated. In anticipation of the centennial Chihuahua has spent $1,500,000 for fountains, public baths, bridges, asphalt pavements, garbage crematory and other public improvements.

Other Cities to Celebrate.

This is the state of Senator Henrique C. Creel, recently appointed minister of foreign relations and one of the richest and most progressive men of Mexico. The Porfirio Diaz school building, erected at a cost of $75,000, is to be dedicated. President Diaz laid the cornerstone of this structure nearly a year ago.

Vera Cruz, the thriving port on the east coast, is to have a floral parade and a battle of confetti on the day and night of Sept. 14. That city will dedicate a monument to Hidalgo and a memorial slab to the cadets who fell in defense of that city in 1812. On Sept. 17 all the sailors in port on war vessels are to be given an outing, with a bullfight for zest. The monument to Hidalgo is to be to Mexico what the Bartholdi statue in New York is to the United States. Vera Cruz also dedicates the Benito Juarez lighthouse.

Guantanamo is to commemorate the fall of Granaditas castle with a historical parade, representing, among others, Christopher Columbus, Montezuma and his court, Isabella of Spain and her court, Hernan Cortes, the conquistadores, Hidalgo and other patriots of 1810 and groups of artisans on decorated floats.

Laughter is the best of all tonics. Bacilli are humorless folk and hate the physical constitution that is always vibrating with the shocks of fun. This is a truism, but serviceable and likewise worth repeating are the platitudes on laughter as the great aspires of the soul. It is true there are different kinds of laughter, and some of them need formaldehyde. There is a kind, too, that needs bicarbonate of soda as an antidote—another that calls for lithia tablets. But the right sort of laughter was stolen from the gods by some wiser Prometheus, and nothing can prevail against it.

In America there is plenty of laughter, good, bad and indifferent, but mostly good, and much that is very good. It is one of our greatest national resources. May we conserve it always. A people that laugh kindly and often have not much to fear; a people that laugh wisely, nothing.—Chicago Tribune.

Learn to Laugh.

Laughter is the best of all tonics. Bacilli are humorless folk and hate the physical constitution that is always vibrating with the shocks of fun. This is a truism, but serviceable and likewise worth repeating are the platitudes on laughter as the great aspires of the soul. It is true there are different kinds of laughter, and some of them need formaldehyde. There is a kind, too, that needs bicarbonate of soda as an antidote—another that calls for lithia tablets. "Niggering" Logs.

The question was asked me as a native of Maine if I could find out what "niggering" logs meant in the statement "We niggered the logs." I found that to "nigger" logs was to save the labor of chopping them into lengths by piling them up crossed at points where it was desired to separate them. By building fires under these crossings several logs could be burned into sections at once. Because "a nigger" was supposed to be lazy this lazy man's way of cutting logs into lengths was, naturally enough, called "niggering."—Appleton Morgan in New Shakespeareana.

How one man fooled his wife

She had been using her "favorite" baking powder. Wouldn't think of trying anything else, because "mother always used it," or some similar excuse. Hubby said she was prejudiced. He figured if Calumet, the new baking powder, selling at a moderate price, could be so successful, there must be some good in it. So he took a hand, and bought a can of Calumet, emptied the can containing her "favorite" baking powder and filled it with Calumet.

That evening, unsuspecting the trick, Wiley prepared and served some of her famous biscuit— piping hot, temptingly browned and puffed up to airy lightness, they were even more delicious than usual. Hubby, after considerable difficulty, succeeded in convincing her that the basis of the improvement was Calumet baking powder. And so an everlasting friend for Calumet was made.

This truthful little incident simply proves that the housewife is oftentimes prejudiced against all baking powders except the one she has been using for years. She imagines that no other kind can possibly be as good. This is a mistaken impression. A trial of Calumet will prove that it is purer, more reliable; it has a greater leavening power than any other baking powder made. And it is moderate in price.

Trouble For the Tourists.

There is a story on record of three Irishmen rushing away from the race meeting at Punchestown to catch a train back to Dublin. At the moment a train from a long distance pulled up at the station, and the three men scrambled in. In the carriage was seated one other passenger. As soon as they had regained their breath one said:

"Fat, have you got th' tickets?"

"What tickets? I've got me loife!"

"I thought I'd have lost that gettin' in th' train. Have you got 'em, Molke?"

"O! Begorra, I haven't!"

"Oh, we're all done for, thin!" said the third. They'll charge us right from th' other side of Oireland."

The old gentleman looked over his newspaper and said:

"You are quite safe, gentlemen. Wait till we get to th' next station."

As soon as the train pulled up the little gentleman jumped out and came back with three first class tickets. Handing them to the astonished strangers, he said: "Whist! I'll tell you how I did it! I went along th' train. 'Tickets, please; tickets, please!' I called, and these belong to three Saxon tourists in another carriage."

Banks on the Lookout.

A merchant in a large city allowed his name to be posted in his club three times for nonpayment of dues. A few days after the last posting he applied to his bank for a loan. When the application came up to the bank's credit man—that newest of a bank's important officials—he pulled out the customer's history card.

The latest entry was one typewritten sentence, "Does not pay his club dues: three times delinquent." The loan was refused. The merchant was either careless, near broke or unappreciative of his credit standing. Any of these reasons looked bad to the banker.

Business men do not realize how closely their banks watch them—how much the banks are bound to know about their affairs, how much seemingly small things in their daily lives affect credit, and big things that they sometimes want to conceal too.—System Magazine.

Eddystone Island.

The smallest inhabited island in the world is that on which the Eddystone lighthouse stands. At low water it is thirty feet in diameter. At high water the lighthouse, whose diameter at the base is eight and three-fourths feet, completely covers it. It is inhabited by three persons. It lies nine miles off the Cornish coast and fourteen miles southeast of Plymouth breakwater.

Flatholme, an island in the British channel, is only a mile and a half in circumference, but, consisting mostly of rich pasture lands, supports a farmhouse besides the lighthouse, with a revolving light 156 feet above the sea. There are about 100,000 islands, large and small, scattered over the oceans. America alone has 5,500 around its coasts. There are 365 in the bay of Rio Janeiro, 16,000 between Madagascar and India and some 1,200 off the eastern coast of Australia between its mainland and New Guinea.

Jenny Lind and the Trill.

Jenny Lind after years of steady practice believed that the much coveted trill was for her an impossibility. She practiced hours a day, but was unable to accomplish the feat. One day, thoroughly discouraged, she was sitting in her garden when all at once she looked up to a tree. Above her a bird was trilling. She at once went to her piano and through some magic or power of imitation began the trill and from that day never had any further difficulty.

Losing His Senses.

A mischievous boy, having got possession of his grandfather's spectacles, privately took out the glasses. When the old gentleman put them on, finding he could not see, he exclaimed: "Mercy on me! I've lost my sight!" But, thinking the impediment to vision might be the dirtiness of the glasses, he took them off to wipe them, when, not feeling them, he still more frightened, cried out: "Why, what's come now? I've lost my feeling too!"—London Ideas.

Legally Better Off.

The creditors of the ancient king had become so unpleasantly insistent that he resolved to put them where they could trouble him no more. So he invited them to a great banquet, and when they had feasted and drunk of his prepared wine he instructed his servants to convey them to his deepest dungeons. And the next morning when he went down to learn whether his servants had done his bidding his creditors raised their voices and entreated to be set free. But he remonstrated with them, saying:

"My friends, you have no just cause for complaint. Are you not better off in the eye of the law than ever before? Any lawyer will tell you that a secured creditor has an exceptional claim." Then he left them and went on his gladsome way, happy in the knowledge that he could at last go through his dominions without being dunned.—Chicago News.

Masculine Music.

The musical doctor stepped into the shop.

His hair stuck out like stiff straws, and his joy of life was under his arm; also two buttons on his waistcoat were undone. So there was no doubt about his being a genius.

"Aha, ahem, ahum!" purred the musical doctor. "E string for a violin, please."

The man behind the counter looked dustered. He went to the shelf, took off a small packet, examined it carefully, examined it again and then hesitatingly returned to the customer.

"I beg your pardon, sir," he began diffidently. "but this 'appears to be my first day in the shop, and yer might give me a little 'elp. The fact is these 'ere strings look all alike to me, an' I can't tell 'es from the shes!"—London Globe.
